

Oil and Natural Gas Stimulate Oklahoma Economic and Job Growth

Oil and natural gas are driving the U.S. economy through a major energy boom and that boom is rippling through the economy of Oklahoma, supporting business activity across the state. This finding grows out of a new American Petroleum Institute survey of domestic oil and natural gas vendors,¹ which offers a glimpse into the job and business creation engine that is the current oil and natural gas industry. The survey shows that at least 2,513 businesses, spread across all five of Oklahoma's congressional districts, are part of the larger oil and natural gas supply chain.

The survey's snapshot of state-by-state activity reinforces the impressive level of industry success throughout the country that is documented in a recent PriceWaterhouseCoopers study conducted for the American Petroleum Institute.² The study found that the oil and natural gas industry in Oklahoma supports some 364,300 jobs, which is 16.8 percent of the state's total employment. The amount of Oklahoma labor income supported by the oil and natural gas industry comes to $23.3 billion annually. That's 22.9 percent of the state's total labor income.

Another way in which the oil and gas industry benefits the people of Oklahoma, in addition to total employment and labor income, is in terms of salary.³ While the average annual salary in Oklahoma across all industries and sectors is $42,733, the average salary in the oil and gas industry (excluding gas stations) is very significantly higher—$93,992 annually. Overall the industry supports $39 billion of the Oklahoma economy. That's 23.1 percent of the state's total economic activity.

Oklahoma ranks 5th in oil and 4th in natural gas production.⁴ That makes it one of the nation's top energy-producing states.

Oklahoma particularly benefits from the production of oil and natural gas from shales and so-called "tight formations," energy development that uses the proven

Mercer Valve Company, Inc.®

Mercer Valve Company has been engineering and manufacturing safety relief valves since 1985. The company's patented Auto Seat Technology® has placed Mercer at the forefront of today's relief valve industry. The technology will provide an extended seat life, which allows the valve to consistently open, close, seat, and seal time and time again.

"Whether it is our deliveries, valve shop, or mobile repair, Mercer always puts safety first. Both the manufacturer and the consumer can benefit from Mercer's product."

Check-6

Check-6 is an international solutions company comprised of former military pilots and special operatives who bring crews working in high-risk environments to a very high level of reliability. The company provides rapid results through coaching, training, and simulation, aimed at instilling best practices and lessons learned from the military backgrounds of the people who work for Check 6. The company goal is to keep crews safe and rigs operational, onshore and off, while reducing training time.

Check-6 was founded in 2007 in order to bring the oil and gas industry to the same consistent, reliable safety standards as military and commercial aviation. It now has more than 400 employees and contractors worldwide, helping oil and gas companies implement best practices for safer, more efficient energy production.
